1745 25 feb boston eve post alex capt NEWKEY news on 19th oct going nfld-barn with 13 men 71 irish passengers and 15 fr prisoners 13 guns met fr pteer PIERRE/maria 35 tons 47 men 6 guns. after few shots she boarded the newkey with 30 men. Irish passengers refused to fight and stayed on deck to which captley and his 12 ~~men~~ brave fellows retreated at close quarters and fired promiscuously amongst French and Irish. Some of the Irish and most of the French were killed the rest retreated. They boarded a second and third time and their captain along with them who grabbed the dead irishmen and stopped the holes through which capt ley and his people fired. They then cut up the decks and threw down grenades and stink pots on which capt ley surrendered, who had but one of his own people killed but there were 31 irishmen killed and 30 wounded. Capt Ley had his shoulder bone broke by a musket when it fired through the hole on the French captain as he was cutting the deck and which wounded the latter in the hand. The Captain of the French privateer took capt ley on board his ship and put him in his own bed, used the men very well and said they were brave men. The Irish he put into the Newkeys long boat and turned them a drift being about 12 leagues from Ireland. There were 8 french killed and 10 wounded several of them were like to die. On tuesday 23rd the privateer was at Hartland and Lundy which he took to be the coast of france. Finding his mistake and being very leaky he gave up his command to Capt Ley and surrendered himself and his people. The french captain is now here as are the wounded. The privateer left the newkey the 22nd at night off padstow with 10 of her men on her besides the 15 french prisoners. we are in hopes they will be retaken.
