WINTER

1747 29 jun boston eve post news phil capt CHARMING NANCY PTEER*(28 kar letter fm jersey) heard of a fleet of merchantmen hacing left their convoy at rochelle and proceeded without it to bordeaux, upon which he immediately crowded on all the sail he could after them, and not overtaking them, he entered the river under french colours but could not get sight of them till he was 8 leagues up the river when he discovered the said fleet laying at anchor, whereupon he sailed up and anchored in the midst of them, manned his boat and took several of them. The rest having cut their cables, ran aground and thereby escaped. Four of the above seven he ransomed-the other three he ordered to this place and as he was coming off the river he met with a large English ship which had been taken eight days before by the French on her voyage from Ireland for Jamaica, which he re-took and has since conducted safe here.
